THE DAILY BEE.

Friday Morning, July 6th, 1855.

THE NORTHERN MAIL has failed for two days in succession. Yesterday it failed from beyond Mobile.

The American State Ticket.

On the Fourth of July the American party of this State, assembled in Convention, made the following nominations for State officers:

For Governor—CHARLES DERBIGNY, of Jefferson.

For Lieut. Governor—LOUIS TEXADA, of Rapides.

For Secretary of State—R. G. BEALE, of East Baton Rouge.

For Treasurer—J. V. DURALDE, of West Baton Rouge.

For Auditor—WALTER BOSEMAN, of Claiborne.

For Attorney General—RANDELL HUNT, of New Orleans.

For Superintendent of Public Education—O. D. STILLMAN, of Ouachita.

This is a noble ticket, strong in all its parts, satisfactory to every section of the State, and which has already carried joy and exultation to the bosom of every member of the American party in our city. It is a ticket which will bring forth the entire strength of the order, which will command a multitude of votes outside of the order and will be, we firmly believe, elected by a majority of thousands.

The name at the head of the ticket scarcely needs any commendation of ours. CHARLES DERBIGNY is identified with the prosperity of Louisiana by half a century of service and association. In politics Mr. DERBIGNY was formerly a Whig, but for several years prior to the organization of the American party, had withdrawn from political life. He is a gentleman of high administrative ability, of sound, practical sense, of the purest integrity, and of an unblemished attachment to principle. His firmness of character is proverbial. He seeks diligently the path of truth and honor, and having once found it, cannot be made to deviate a hair's breath. He is adored for his upright and manly virtues, and is just the right sort of man for the chief magistracy of our State. Mr. DERBIGNY is a Catholic.

LEWIS TEXADA is in the prime of vigor and manhood—an ardent Democrat, but liking his country better than his party, he is every inch an American. He possesses much energy and activity, is outstanding in his zeal, is endowed with great shrewdness and talent, has an enlarged experience in legislative duties, and is admirably fitted for the office to which he has been nominated.

R. G. BEALE is another warm Democrat whose Americanism is stronger than mere party attachment. He is a gentleman of fine talent, a good speaker, ready and fluent, of ripe intelligence, of strong convictions, who will throw his heart into the canvass, and work unceasingly for the triumph of the cause.

J. V. DURALDE is a Whig, a Creole, and a true-hearted, high-minded gentleman. He is personally popular, and with his own section of country receive a heavy vote irrespective of party. Mr. DURALDE belongs to one of the most ancient and respectable families in the State,

WALTER ROSEMAN is a staunch Democrat in principle, and a thoroughgoing advocate of American doctrines. His name adds strength to the ticket in the glorious Northwestern parishes, where the cause is already prospering beyond conception.

RANDELL HUNT! Who does not know RANDELL HUNT, the profound jurist, the eloquent orator, the ripe scholar, the affable, courteous and perfect gentleman—everywhere beloved and respected. His name has been truly said to be a tower of strength. Although a Whig, his well known liberality of sentiment has endeared him to the Democracy, and he will unquestionably obtain the suffrages of many who differ from him on political grounds.

O. D. STILLMAN is a gentleman peculiarly qualified for the place of Superintendent of Public Education, being himself an accomplished scholar, who has devoted much attention to the subject of our public schools.

We are enabled to add that these nominations were effected in the utmost spirit of harmony, and without the slightest manifestation of disruption. Each of them was ratified by the unanimous vote of the Convention, and called forth such demonstrations of enthusiasm as we have rarely witnessed. The ticket is deemed a formidable one even by its opponents. Many of them have acknowledged the fact.—With DERBIGNY in South, and TEXADA in North Louisiana, it will create such a revolution in the ballot-box as the most sanguine of our friends hardly hope for.

Prior to making the nominations, the Convention adopted a PLATFORM. At the hour we write, the programme of principles has not been handed in for publication, but having heard it read, we can state in general terms that it is a well digested and satisfactory exposition of the doctrines and sentiments of the American party in Louisiana; that it is explicit, lucid, frank and open; that on the religious question it takes the highest constitutional, conservative ground, utterly repudiating and protesting against the religious test introduced at the Philadelphia Convention. It not only, like the Georgia Platform, disavows that test, but specifically refers to the odious eighth section of the Philadelphia Platform with its narrow and bigoted fling against Catholicism, and denounces and condemns it in indignant terms. It advocates a State policy founded we believe in justice, and sound reason and in all respects whatever asserts principles in which our enemies will find it no easy matter to pick a flaw. No doubt, the Platform and address will be soon published, when our readers will be able to decide for themselves. Meanwhile we will simply add, that both were received by the Convention with shouts of almost frantic applause, and adopted without a solitary dissenting voice.

SECOND CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT.

The delegates from the various Parishes in the Second Congressional District assembled last evening, and upon the first ballot nominated Hon. T. G. HUNT for re-election. Colonel HUNT made a representative of whom Louisiana has reason to be proud, and as his election is certain, we may add that the National men of the country will hail the return to Washington next December with unmingled gratification.

THE JUDICIAL ELECTION.—The official returns come in slowly. There is, however, no doubt whatever of the election of Judge MORPHY. The vote in the Parish of Washington was: Morrish 329, Bigon 81; in De Soto, Morrish 198, Bigon 61; in Winn, Morrish 86, Bigon 9. Bolton is reported to have given Morrish 215 majority, Conrad, (official) 684; Bourlier, (reported) 988.

TROUBLE IN MEMPHIS.—At the municipal election in Memphis, on the 26th, the "Bluff" managed a complete victory, with the Americans candidates from Mayor down, were elected by majorities varying from 120 to 600. (Memphis Argus.)

The contest was severe, and the anti-American party were defeated by a majority of 120 votes on the day of the election. At the time we write, (Tuesday morning) we are unable to say that the majority for the Americans is increasing in the State, as the result of the election will show, and we shall not be surprised with any small majority for the Americans in other portions of the State are correctly reported in the Memphis papers, and coarse manner in which the election was conducted here, we are satisfied many votes were fraudulently counted for the anti-American party which would have been thrown out if closely scanned. Many of the Americans who were defeated by fraud and violence, are determined to contest their seats, and we hope they will succeed.

An election for Justices of the Peace was held on Monday in the third ward of Memphis, and resulted in the election of Jas. A. Miller, Americ candidate, by fifty-three majority.

The vote stood thus:

Miller	79
