We have chosen to compare : iPhone 4, Blackberry torch and Nokia n8

After looking at the specs of the three we have come to a conclusion that iPhone has the best quality of input, output plus software compared to Torch and n8.

Iphone 4 camera resolution is one of the best in existence with 960-by-640 the highest out of the 3. This includes screne resolution

Their touch screen sensor pad respond to only the humid from human finger and is fingerprint resistant which the others are not.

It has the ram of 16gb to 32gb while torch has the same but n8 is laking behind them.

Even though the iphone 4 is slightly more expensive than Torch and n8 it provides much more variety of applications on its appstore as it has been proven that the appworld and nokia's application store cannot match iphone's app variety.

As far as internet is concerned iphones web browser is more advanced and has much higher resolution between the 3 of them.

Iphone also offers Face time that uses wifi as conection which other phones don't provide.

The only thing missing from iphone would be the Bluetooth system.
